

principles: going deeper

New awareness of need to connecting people deeper (B)    go deep in people's needs and feelings need to go deeper    icecream method (iceberg model?)

try to get to go deeper levels in the dialogue and don't assume you understand what the other says. By the way, philosophical questioning can be helpful.

principles: inclusion and diversity

Q: does it need a different approach to involve youngsters in contrast to elderly people?

Q: In terms of diversity/ engagement, something is shifting with farmers. How do we make the most of this new potential for engagement?

welcoming people    taking everyone along is most important    to be sure to include actors that are overlooked, because not (well) organised, are not in the same circles, do not share the same language or social status

Include marginal voices    inclusion and diversity (B)    inclusion

Need for diversity    inclusion in dialogue, engaging with diverse people    We can involve diverse groups, especially the ones often hardest to connect with. (A)    listen to all the stakeholders meeting people from all around Europe    Ireland getting the farmers involved for climate action. (A)    Learning from others' experience how dialogue is working in all regional corners    how examples/ stories from different parts of the world can be part of one picture. How we need to be aware of past conflicts    the shared stories (C)

Different experiences, to get people for dialog. Nice to meet people.    Les pratiques de dialogue local (territorial) dans nos différents pays: principes et méthodes principles: from needs to common vision

Q: how to create an atmosphere where people see pluralism as an opportunity and not as a threat?

Q: how to move from personal interest/problem to common interest?

Gather people around a shared, simple concern    finding things that matter to those we try to connect with, what do they need, want etc.

addressing people through their problems and needs, so that is real for them    to overcome tensions, conflicts... envision what a healthy, sustainable future holds for all participants.

common vision (inclusive, nurturing the sense of belonging, respecting everyone's needs)    a common vision / goal for the future (as a way of uniting various stakeholders)    Finding common ground through future visioning dialogue leading to action

Q: how to ensure that the outcomes are more binding?

Dialogue needs to lead to action    Action needs to follow discussions ensuring people the feeling that they are actually heard and that they are supported in real actions    importance of dialogue and partnership le dialogue, notre seule chance pour dépasser la crise environnementale need for facilitators and training

For a successful dialogue, mediation or multistakeholder process for positive change, you need qualified facilitators. People that have skills to broker the process bringing people together is quite a skill
